Community Health Nursing Department Achievements

Academic Year 2024-2025

Health awareness campaigns and seminars were conducted both inside and outside the university campus. Their main objectives were to raise health awareness among students and staff and to provide basic health services such as blood pressure and weight measurements.

First: Al-Nahda School

A campaign was organized for students and teachers to increase awareness about the Respiratory Syncytial Virus (RSV). The session included information on the virus definition, causes, risks, prevention methods, and how to avoid infection. Children were also given guidance on disease prevention while at school and how to protect themselves by avoiding crowded places.

Another campaign was also held for students and teachers to raise awareness about climate change and its impact on human health, both at the school and on the university campus.

Second: Mostafa Kamel School

A campaign was organized for students and teachers to increase awareness about violence and its psychological effects on individuals and society. The session covered the definition, causes, dangers, and methods of prevention. Awareness was raised among children regarding abstaining from violence and understanding its emotional impact.

Third: Hafez Ibrahim School

A campaign was conducted for students and teachers to increase awareness about electronic games. The session explained their definition, causes, dangers, and prevention methods. Awareness was also raised on avoiding excessive gaming and introducing children to alternative beneficial programs.

Fourth: Helwan Official School

A campaign was held for students and teachers to raise awareness about healthy nutrition and a healthy lifestyle for children. The session covered definitions, importance, children's nutritional needs, tips for healthy eating, and the food pyramid for children.

Fifth: Om Kulthum Elderly Care Home

A seminar was held to raise awareness about chronic diseases such as hypertension and diabetes. It included definitions, causes, prevention, and management. During the convoy, residents had their blood pressure, blood sugar, and body temperature measured. The same procedures were also conducted on the university campus.

Sixth: Faculty of Computers and Information - University Campus

A seminar was conducted for students and staff to raise awareness about first aid. It included an introduction to first aid, how to perform it, how to respond in emergency situations, and identifying warning signs. The seminar was delivered by Assoc. Prof. Sahar Mahmoud and Lecturer Samah Anwar, in collaboration with master's students. Blood pressure, sugar levels, and temperature were measured during the session. The same seminar was also implemented at Al-Nahda School.
